

Islam and Open Society

Islam and Open Society

Fidelity and Movement in the Philosophy of Muhammad Iqbal

Souleymane Bachir Diagne

Translated from French to English by Melissa McMahon

CODESRIA

Council for the Development of Social Science Research in Africa
DAKAR

© CODESRIA 2010

First published in French as « Islam et société ouverte : la fidélité et le mouvement dans la pensée de Muhammad Iqbal », Paris : Maisonneuve & Larose
Council for the Development of Social Science Research in Africa,
Avenue Cheikh Anta Diop, Angle Canal IV, BP 3304 Dakar, 18524, Senegal
Website: www.codesria.org

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopy, recording or any information storage or retrieval system without prior permission from CODESRIA.

ISBN: 978-2-86978-305-8

Layout: Hadijatou Sy

Cover Design: Ibrahima Fofana

Printed by: Imprimerie Graphi plus, Dakar, Senegal

Distributed in Africa by CODESRIA

Distributed elsewhere by African Books Collective, Oxford, UK.

Website: www.africanbookscollective.com

The Council for the Development of Social Science Research in Africa (CODESRIA) is an independent organisation whose principal objectives are to facilitate research, promote research-based publishing and create multiple forums geared towards the exchange of views and information among African researchers. All these are aimed at reducing the fragmentation of research in the continent through the creation of thematic research networks that cut across linguistic and regional boundaries.

CODESRIA publishes a quarterly journal, Africa Development, the longest standing Africa-based social science journal; Afrika Zamani, a journal of history; the African Sociological Review; the African Journal of International Affairs; Africa Review of Books and the Journal of Higher Education in Africa. The Council also co-publishes the Africa Media Review, Identity, Culture and Politics: An Afro-Asian Dialogue, The African Anthropologist and the Afro-Arab Selections for Social Sciences. The results of its research and other activities are also disseminated through its Working Paper Series, Green Book Series, Monograph Series, Book Series, Policy Briefs and the CODESRIA Bulletin. Select CODESRIA publications are also accessible online at www.codesria.org.

CODESRIA would like to express its gratitude to the Swedish International Development Cooperation Agency (SIDA/SAREC), the International Development Research Centre (IDRC), the Ford Foundation, the MacArthur Foundation, the Carnegie Corporation, the Norwegian Agency for Development Cooperation (NORAD), the Danish Agency for International Development (DANIDA), the French Ministry of Cooperation, the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), the Netherlands Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the Rockefeller Foundation, FINIDA, the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA), the Open Society Initiative for West Africa (OSIWA), TrustAfrica, UN/UNICEF, the African Capacity Building Foundation (ACBF) and the Government of Senegal for supporting its research, training and publication programmes.

To my mother

To seek our points of departure by freely immersing ourselves in the problems themselves and in the demands that are coextensive with them.

Edmund Husserl

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Preface	xi
Introduction	xiii
Chapter I: A faylasûf of Today	1
Chapter II: A Philosophy of the Individual	5
Self-affirmation	6
The Test of Consistency	7
A Cosmology of Emergence	10
Chapter III: A Philosophy of Action	19
Movement and Action	19
Fatum , Time and Prayer	21
An Ethics of Consumption	24
A Philosophy of Living	27
A Philosophy of Tolerance	31
A Politics of Autonomy	33
Chapter IV: Fidelity and Movement	39
On Science	39
Ijtibâd and Open Society	46
Conclusion: On Modernity	51
Notes	57
References	69

Acknowledgements

My father, Sheikh Diagne Ahmadou, introduced me to Muhammad Iqbal; he was also the first attentive reader of this work, inspired by his teaching of an Islam conceived in accordance with what Iqbal calls here 'The spirit of the caliph Umar'. My friends – Maziar Djoneidi, Catherine Clément, Philippe Gouet and Sémou Pathé Guèye – have given me the benefit of their comments. My thanks also go to all those with whom I discussed this essay during my period at Northwestern University, Charles Taylor and Dilip Parameshwar Gaonkar in particular. I have not forgotten those who attended the seminar I devoted to 'Muhammad Iqbal's philosophy of action' at the Cheikh Anta Diop University in Dakar between 1997 and 1999. Papa Amadou Ndiaye Bombé was one of them and he already knew, before leaving this world, how to think with Iqbal.

